Court of Common Pleas.
The court of common pleas for Chester county convened this morning for the second and final week of the term. The work of the court has been expedited in various ways, and it looks like the entire calendar will be disposed of. The following extra jurors were drawn this morning to take the place of several who were excused for one cause and another: F. M. Nall, F. A. Beaver, W. J. Simpson, Philip Adelsheimer, Fred Walker, P. Nall, Joe B. W. H. Hahn, E. C. Hahn, W. H. Hahn, S. J. Ferguson, W. H. Murr, T. J. Lucas, W. H. Peden, M. E. White. The following business has been transacted since our last report:

The Massillon Show and Print Co. vs. the Buffalo Lick Springs case, decided at $436.68 for the plaintiff.

David Johnson by his guardian ad litem, Robert Johnson, vs. Solomon R. Co., verdict of $200 for plaintiff.

Consar Mercantile Co. vs. Southern Ry. Co., verdict of $130.76 for plaintiff.

R. C. Guy vs. Southern Ry. Co., settled.

J. D. Ratterree vs. Southern Ry. Co., settled.

Rhoda Johnson as Adminx vs. Catawba Power Co., settled.

W. R. Henderson vs. L. & C. Taylor, settled.

The case of Mrs. Ella Devanney vs. the Southern Ry. Co. is now engaging the attention of the court.

Returns from Synod.
Rev. C. E. McDonald and Mr. A. G. Brier returned this morning from the meeting of the A. B. F. Synod at Elk Valley, Tenn. Mr. Brier said that there was a very good attendance from all sections. Several matters were discussed upon which the most important was the election of the Rev. Mr. Hough to take charge of the Sabbath School work and the Young People's work of the whole church. The Rev. J. A. White, of Hopewell, this county was the moderator. Synod met next year at Newberry and the Rev. W. H. Mullen is the moderator elect. The reports of the respective boards showed that the church's institutions, Episcopate, the Due West Female college and the Seminary, were all in the condition and with the largest enrollment of students in their history.

Fire in Due West.
Saturday morning about 2:30 the stores of Presley Bros and Young & McDill in Due West, were burned, with practically all their stock. The insurance company did not cover the value of the buildings. The fire started in the front of Presley Bros store and cannot be accounted for. It was only by heroic efforts, chiefly by the students of Erskine college, that most of the business houses and some dwellings were saved. The Hotel kept by the Rev. J. S. Mills, suffered considerable damage to furniture. Some of the prominent citizens propose tendering the male college and the Seminary the cost of the damage in recognition of their efforts.

The state supreme court has rendered a decision annulling the state dispensary board in declaring illegal the election by which the dispensary board was organized.

Don't buy your jackets until you see our line. We will make it pay for you. Barker Bros.

Two Veterans Pass Away.

W. NEWTON GASTON.
Mr. W. Newton Gaston, of this county, died on Sabbath, the 17th. He had been in declining health for a year perhaps but was confined to bed about a week. His trouble was Bright's disease, with other complications. The burial was at Pleasant Grove (M. E.) Monday.

Mr. Gaston was a native of the neighborhood in which he lived all his life and died. He would have been 69 years old in February. He was a lieutenant in Co. A, 6th S. C. V., and served throughout the war, from April 1, 1861, until the surrender of Lee in April 1865.

He leaves his wife, who was a Miss Baskin, three sons, Joe, B. Gaston, of Rock Hill, Dr. J. N. Gaston and W. Gaston, of this county, and five daughters, Mrs. Rosa Strat, of Rock Hill, Mrs. Neely and Mrs. Steele, of Waxhaw, N. C., and Misses Annie and Ethel, at home.

Mr. Gaston was well known for his integrity and uprightness and reared a family of exceptionally fine character.

BRANDER McLEURE.
Mr. Brandier McLeure died yesterday morning, morning about 10 o'clock. He had been in poor health for months and for several days entirely helpless, and Saturday had a stroke of paralysis. The funeral service was conducted this morning by Rev. J. S. Snyder and S. J. Cartledge and the remains were buried in Evergreen cemetery. The pallbearers were, Messrs. W. H. Hardin, E. F. Moore, E. M. Spratt, W. L. Ferguson and James White.

His wife, who was Miss Mary Hinton, died ten years ago. Four children survive: Miss Janet, who is teaching at Greer; Miss Kate, a teacher in the Chester schools; John, who is teaching at Fort Mill; and Charles, a student in Clemson college.

He was a native of Chester and was 66 years old. He served during the war in McLeod's artillery battery. His education was completed at Princeton. He taught for several years, but most of his time was spent in newspaper work, in one capacity in another. When The Lantern was started he did local work and traveled over the county, writing interesting notes and securing many of the subscribers now on the list.

Mr. McLeure was honest to all his dealings and seemed never to suspect anything else in others. He was practically a man of peace, free from malice and never spoke unkindly of any one.

Dr. Hollis Will Practice Law.
The human corporations have received the reorganization of one of its most esteemed agents and special investigators, Dr. John Porter Hollis, formerly of Chester and other places in South Carolina. Dr. Hollis will no longer be known as doctor, but henceforth he will be Col. Hollis. He has resigned to enter upon the practice of law at Rock Hill.

Col. Hollis has been connected with the bureau of corporations for several years and has been engaged upon some of the most important and the worst of that bureau, having been out investigating certain features of the operations of the Standard Oil company, the American Tobacco and the lumber trust. He may not have called them "trusts" in his report, but that is what they are more commonly known.

During the past summer he was in Louisiana, Mississippi and other states of the Southwest looking into lumber transactions. Before going to the bureau of corporations he was a teacher, being for one year a professor of economics and history in the University of Texas. He was graduated with the degree of Ph. D. at Johns Hopkins after taking his bachelor's degree at Wofford. But he is still a bachelor.

He has many friends in Washington especially in the bureau of corporations and his ability was highly appreciated and his personality was much liked—Zack McGee in The State.

OPERA HOUSE.
JOHN B. WILLS MUSICAL COMEDY CO.

The Wills Musical Comedy Company was greeted last night by another large audience at the Casino to witness the performance of "Two Old Crookes." The old play was as popular as in years gone by, and it may be said that the company scored a success that will swell the box office receipts for the remainder of the week. "Italy Conquited," Atlanta, Ga.

A POPULAR PLAY AT THE CASINO.
The performance last evening in which John B. Wills Musical Comedy Company were the work of "Two Old Crookes" was an indication that this will be another successful production. The musical farce is well fitted for the different parts and the lines are bright and in places uproariously funny and are interspersed with catchy songs. All of them were well received.

Opera House, two nights commencing Wednesday, Nov. 27.

Rev. J. P. Marion.
Rev. J. P. Marion has been in delicate health for some years, and unable to do active work in the ministry. Since his retirement from active work he has resided at Blenheim, S. C. He died at his home in Blenheim on Thursday, October 31.

He was native of Chester, S. C. His early life was in the Associate Reformed Presbyterian Church, and his early ministry was in that church. Erskine College gave him literary training. He was licensed in 1850 by the Presbytery of Tennessee, and ordained by the Presbytery of Arkansas.

For six years he was evangelist of the Associate Reformed Church in Arkansas; then for six years he served the church of that denomination at Chester, S. C.

His later labors were in connection with our Church in South Carolina, at Greenwood, at Lebanon, at Lancaster in North Carolina, at Morganton in Georgia, at Thomasville and in Texas, at Brownwood. During these years he published several books and tracts mostly from the press of the Presbyterian Publishing Company at Due West, S. C. His later days were spent in resting and waiting for the Master.—Southern Presbyterian.

The Kaiser was caught in a fog on his way to England. But still he has not been forgotten before.

An "ad" in Our Want Column Will Bring Results.

Now if (certainly) you will send some of that money soon we will also advocate his nomination for the presidency on the republican ticket.

It is frequently the case that the man who comes to judge, is forced to stand trial for his own shortcomings. Gaffney Ledger.
